CURRENT ISSUES IN ANATOMIC PATHOLOGY
Thursday - Saturday
May 24-26, 2012
Daily Self-Assessment Modules (SAMs) will be available to meet AB MOC™ Part II requirements.

CYTOLOGY SEMINAR
Wednesday, May 23, 2012
San Francisco VA Medical Center
This annual course addresses a wide range of topics in anatomic pathology and explores new and evolving areas in the diagnosis and analysis of disease. It aims to provide the latest practical and theoretical information that will aid the practicing pathologist in solving those problems most often encountered in the anatomic pathology laboratory.

An audience response system will facilitate questions and discussion, and a complete course syllabus will be provided for all participants. Participants will be able to register for either the entire three-day meeting or for any combination of individual one-day blocks.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES:

The primary goal of this course is to identify areas of diagnostic difficulties and challenges in everyday surgical pathology and cytopathology practice, and to provide expert insight on selected topics through didactic lectures, tutorial sessions and interactive reviews. The educational experience is further enhanced through collegial contact and one-on-one interaction during the course. The topics selected this year reflect areas in which substantial information and progress has been made as exemplified by the recent release of reporting guidelines for reporting for surgical specimens in various journals. The topics or discussions also focus on areas in which there is significant difficulty in interpretation of pathological features by the pathologist. In general terms, we expect that at the end of this course, the participants will be able to:

1. Decrease errors and identify pitfalls in the diagnosis of specific diseases in everyday surgical pathology;
2. Recognize mimickers of specific diseases in each specialty and improve interpretation of special studies that will foster improved differential diagnosis;
3. Improve competence in identification of histopathological characteristics of disease to reach unequivocal diagnosis;
4. Increase knowledge of the recent changes/modifications in the pathological classification of diseases or lesions to improve patient care.
CURRENT ISSUES IN ANATOMIC PATHOLOGY • CYTOLOGY SEMINAR

Cytology Seminar

Wednesday, May 23, 2012  Enrollment in this seminar is limited to 18 persons and will be determined on a first-come, first-served basis. The seminar will be held on the UCSF San Francisco VA Medical Center Campus (SFVAH, Bldg. 2, 3rd Floor, Anatomic Pathology, 4150 Clement Street, San Francisco, CA). Shuttle service will be provided between the Hotel Nikko and the San Francisco VA Medical Center.

Seminar Registration Fee: $250
Please call the registration office (415-476-5808) to verify space is available before sending payment for the Cytology Seminar.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

This one day seminar will present the audience a hands-on experience with diagnostic problems in everyday cytopathology practice and an update on recent developments in the use of special techniques in cytopathology. At the end of the cytopathology course, the learner will be able to identify common problem areas in cytopathology practice, recognize potential pitfalls, and develop a differential diagnosis and a management plan. The learner will be able to identify the practical benefit of special techniques.

Jonathan I. Epstein, MD
Professor of Pathology, Urology & Oncology
The John Hopkins University, School of Medicine

Jonathan I. Epstein, MD, obtained a combined BA-MD degree from Boston University’s 6-Year Medical Program (1975–1981).

Following his residency in anatomic pathology at The Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland and a fellowship in oncologic pathology at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York, he joined the staff at The Johns Hopkins Hospital and has been there his entire career. At The Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, he is Professor of Pathology, Urology, and Oncology; the recipient of the Reinhard Chair of Urological Pathology; and Director of Surgical Pathology. He is the past President of the International Society of Urological Pathology. Dr Epstein has 646 publications in the peer-reviewed literature and has authored 47 book chapters.

His most-frequently cited first or last authored publications is “Pathological and Clinical Findings to Predict Tumor Extent of Nontalpable (stage T1c) Prostate Cancer,” published in JAMA, which establishes the criteria for active surveillance. He was also the leading author to develop the WHO Consensus Conference on Classification of Urothelial Neoplasia (1998) and the consensus on updating the Gleason grading system (2005). He is the author or coauthor of 5 books including “Interpretation of Prostate Biopsies” which is in its 4th edition, and “Bladder Biopsy Interpretation” which is in its 2nd edition. He is a co-editor of the “WHO Pathology and Genetics of Tumors of the Urinary System and Male Genital Organs”, and a co-author of the 2011 AFIP Fascicle, 4th Series on “Tumors of the Prostate Gland, Seminal Vesicles, Male Urethra, and Penis”. Dr Epstein has one of the largest surgical pathology consulting services in the world with approximately 16,000 cases per year, covering the full range of urologic pathology. Dr Epstein uses these consultations to train 4 genitourinary pathology fellows each year, with 42 fellows trained to date.
ACCREDITATION
The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 19.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™, the Cytology Workshop (MAP1201B) is designated 6.25 Category 1 Credits™. Each optional lunch tutorial is designated 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Each physician should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of his/her participation in the activity. This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.
