Current Issues in Anatomic Pathology

May 24- 26, 2018

This annual course addresses a wide range of topics in anatomic pathology and explores new and evolving areas in the diagnosis and analysis of disease. It aims to provide the latest practical and theoretical information that will aid the practicing pathologist in solving those problems most often encountered in the anatomic pathology laboratory. An audience response system will facilitate questions and discussion. Participants will be able to register for either the entire three-day meeting or for any combination of individual one-day blocks.

OBJECTIVES

The principal objective of this activity is to identify areas of diagnostic difficulties and challenges in everyday surgical pathology and cytopathology practice, and to provide expert insight on selected topics through different educational formats. Educational experience is further enhanced through collegial contact and one-on-one interaction throughout the course. As identified through recent publications and other data gathering efforts, the topics selected each year reflect areas in which substantial information and progress has been made. The topics of discussion also focus on areas in which there is significant difficulty in interpretation of pathological features. In general terms, we expect that at the end of this course, the participants will be able to:

- reduce occurrence of common mistakes and pitfalls in the diagnosis of genitourinary, breast, gynecological, gastrointestinal, hepatobiliary, hematolymphoid, pulmonary, and soft tissue diseases (see program for specific diseases in the current course) in everyday surgical pathology;
- improve diagnostic accuracy with mimickers of specific diseases in each specialty;
- interpret special studies that will allow easier differential diagnosis;
- improve ability to identify the pertinent histopathological characteristics of diseases to allow unequivocal diagnosis;
- use new and additional components of the pathology report to improve its clinical value;
- integrate the recent changes/modifications in the pathological classification of diseases or lesions.

CYTOLOGY SEMINAR (SFVAMC, Bldg. 2, Floor 3, Anatomic Pathology)

Enrollment in this seminar is limited to 18 persons on a first-come, first-served basis. The seminar will be held on the UCSF San Francisco VA Medical Center campus.

Shuttle service will be provided between the Hotel Nikko and the San Francisco VA Medical Center.

Seminar Registration Fee: $325. Enrollment limited to 18.

Please call the registration office (415-476-5808) to verify space is available before sending payment for the Cytology Seminar.

Faculty

Sarah Calkins, MD Assistant Professor of Pathology

Tara Saunders, MD Assistant Professor of Pathology

Annemieke van Zante, MD, PhD Associate Professor of Pathology

Poonam Vohra, MD Assistant Professor of Pathology

Course Chair: Laura Tabatabai, MD Professor of Pathology

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

The seminar is designed to present the audience a hands-on experience in diagnostic problems in everyday cytopathology practice and an update on recent developments in the use of special techniques in cytopathology. At the end of the cytopathology course, the learner will be able to identify common problem areas in cytopathology practice, recognize potential pitfalls and develop a differential diagnosis and a management plan. The learner will be able to identify the practical benefit of special techniques.

HENRY MOON LECTURER
Robert H. Young, MD

Dr. Robert Young is director of Gynecologic Pathology at the Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) in Boston, where he is the Robert E. Scully Professor of Pathology at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Young is an internationally renowned gynecologic pathologist and he is equally well known as an expert in urologic pathology. Dr. Young was born in Northern Ireland and attended medical school at Dublin University. He began his training in pathology in Ireland, but soon moved to Boston, where he completed his pathology residency and a fellowship in gynecologic pathology with Dr. Robert Scully. Subsequently, Dr. Young joined the Harvard faculty at the MGH, where he had a long and fruitful collaboration with Dr. Scully. Dr. Young's prodigious contributions to the field of surgical pathology deal with nearly every aspect of neoplastic and non-neoplastic disease of the gynecologic and urologic tracts. In addition to being the first to thoroughly describe the clinicopathologic features of many gynecologic tumors and benign alterations, Dr. Young's

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

MAP18001A – Current Issues in Anatomic Pathology

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 23 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. The live course is accredited for 18 with four optional sessions at 1.00 credit each. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. This Activity meets the American Board of Pathology's Maintenance of Certification (MOC) requirements for Part II (CME and SAMs) lifelong learning. Participants in MOC may earn up to 18 SAM credits. This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

MAP18001B – Cytology Seminar

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

GENERAL INFORMATION

observations on the myriad morphologic variants of neoplastic and non-neoplastic disease have significantly contributed to the development of reproducible diagnostic criteria and the refinement of tumor classifications. Among his many accomplishments, Dr. Young was one of the co-authors of the AFIP 3rd Series Fascicle Tumors of the Ovary, Maldeveloped Gonads, Fallopian Tube and Broad Ligament, he was one of the coeditors of the 2014 World Health Organization Classification of Tumours of the Female Reproductive Organs and he wrote, along with his colleague Philip Clement, the very useful and well received book Atlas of Surgical Gynecologic Pathology. Dr. Young has a strong interest in the history of medicine, and has published a fascinating series of articles on the history of gynecologic pathology in the International Journal of Gynecological Pathology. He is the director of annual courses on surgical pathology and gynecological pathology offered through Harvard Medical School and is much in demand worldwide as a speaker on topics in gynecologic and urologic pathology. He last spoke at the UCSF Current Issues in Anatomic Pathology a number of years ago, and this year, in recognition of his accomplishments in the field of gynecologic pathology, we are pleased to welcome him back as our 2018 Henry Moon Lecturer.
